

GEN. FUNSTON DIES SUDDENLY FORCED DRASTIC BRADY

Major General of United States Army Collapses at San Antonio

LIVED BUT FEW HOURS

After Attack—Interesting Incidents Of a Remarkable Army Career

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 19.—General Frederick Funston collapsed in a hotel here tonight, and died shortly afterwards. According to attending physicians, General Funston's death was due to acute indigestion. He had just finished dinner, and was playing with a small child when he fell unconscious. He was taken to his room, but physicians were unable to revive him.

Major General Frederick Funston was born at New Carlisle, Ohio, November 9, 1865, and was, therefore, in the fifty second year of his age at the time of his death. When he was two years of age his parents moved to Kansas, where young Funston grew up. He was educated in the University of Kansas. In 1890 he was a reporter on one of the newspapers in Kansas City. He became an authority on botany and an explorer of considerable reputation.

His adventurous spirit took him to Cuba during one of the numerous insurrections in that country and he served eighteen months in the Cuban army as captain, major and lieutenant colonel.

He was wounded in an engagement and returned to the United States, where he was given command of the twentieth Kansas infantry in the war of 1898, being sent to the Philippines, where he took part in many engagements and gained a national wide reputation for his final capture of Aguinaldo.

He was promoted brigadier general April 1, 1901, and major general November 17, 1914.

He has been in command of the army on the border since the mobilization of the troops there consequent upon threatened trouble with Mexico. An Interesting Career.

Not until 1896, when the Cuban insurrection was at its height did Frederick Funston become known throughout the United States as a first-class fighting man, but his friends in Kansas—where he spent his early manhood—long had so classed him.

As a student at the University of Kansas, when he weighed less than 100 pounds, he conquered a 200-pound "bad man" who threatened him with a razor. To add to the giant's humiliation, Funston marched him through the streets of Lawrence, Kansas, at the point of a revolver, to a police station.

A few years later, while city editor of a paper in Fort Smith, Arkansas, young Funston stirred up intense feeling by attacking editorially the publication's own political party leaders during the absence of his editor-in-chief. Many threats are said to have been made against Funston and the newspaper property, but he remained on guard until his superior returned and then turned over the plant unharmed. Incidentally, Funston also resigned.

Along the Santa Fe railroad they still recall how Funston, as a passenger train conductor, threw a drunken cowboy off a train and later, when he hurled a rock through a coach window, pursued him several miles on foot while the train waited.

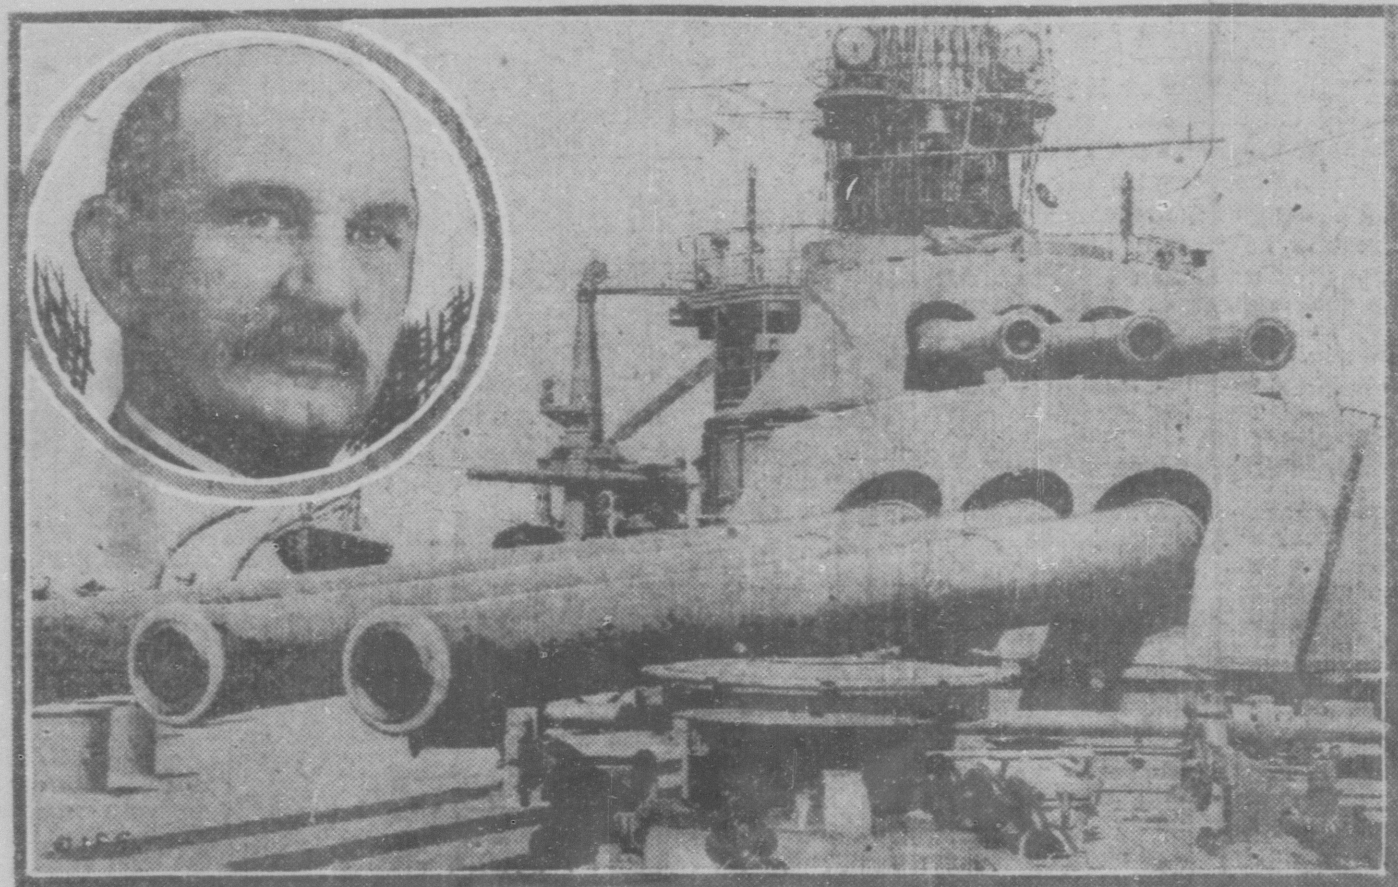

Funston's first experience on the firing line came in Cuba, where he commanded General Gomez's artillery with remarkable results. After engaging in twenty-two battles and being wounded three times, he resigned his command because fifty guerrillas who had aided the Spaniards were executed against his wishes. Captured by Spaniards on his way to Havana, he escaped death by swallowing a letter to the president of Cuba which would have proved his identity.

While a colonel of the famous twentieth Kansas volunteer infantry in the Philippine war, Funston performed feats of bravery that brought him the title of brigadier general. His capture of Aguinaldo and his forcing of the Rio Grande river at Columbus under fire featured his work. Funston has been described by his superiors as absolutely fearless. Ever ready to plunge into danger, he cared little whether his force equalled that of his opponent. One day, the story goes, when it appeared certain the Filipinos would destroy three companies under Funston's command, General Harrison Gray Otis, inquired of the colonel how long he could hold his position.

"Until I am mustered out!" Funston replied.

These Guns Superior To Anything In German Navy

These mighty 14-inch rifles of the battleship Pennsylvania, flagship of Admiral Mayo of the Atlantic fleet, are superior to anything in the German navy. No single battleship of the kaiser could cope with this vessel. In fact, only the five great warships of the type of the Queen Elizabeth, finished since the beginning of the war by Great Britain, are the equal of the Pennsylvania.

MATTERS ARE SATISFACTORY

In Cuba With Menocal's Troops Making Great Progress Against Rebels

Washington, Feb. 19.—Reports of the progress of President Menocal's forces against insurgent bands in Cuba have increased the hopes of the administration that peace may be established without American intervention.

It has been made plain that the full moral support of the United States will be given the Menocal administration.

Orestes Ferrara and Raimundo Cabrera, spokesmen of the liberal party, are here to represent the rebel party before the state department. It was said at Secretary Lansing's office that they have made no attempt to see anyone connected with the government.

It is intimated that they would not be received as the representatives of the rebels and that little consideration will be given any representations they might make.

Two Arrests in New York Charged With Aiding Germany In Obtaining Maps of England and Ireland

New York, Feb. 19.—Agents department of justice arrested tonight, two men charged with violating the federal laws against carrying on military enterprises against a foreign country. They gave their names as Albert A. Sander and Charles W. Wunnenburg. The complaint, signed by Judge Hand of the United States district court, charged them with conspiring to secure maps, photographs and other military information of England and Ireland to benefit Germany.

FLORIDA GETS FINE PLACE

In Sundry Civil Bill For Continuing Work On Federal Buildings

(Special to The Herald.) Washington, Feb. 19.—A number of appropriations for the continuation of the work of construction of federal buildings in Florida, during the next fiscal year, are contained in the sundry civil appropriation bill, reported to house representatives today.

Florida items in the bill are: Appalachicola, to continue construction of postoffice and custom house, $25,000; Bartow, to complete postoffice, $20,000; Deland, to complete postoffice, $24,000; Lakeland, to complete postoffice, $4,500; Marianna, to continue postoffice and court house, $50,000; Orlando, to complete postoffice, $24,000; Sanford, to continue construction of postoffice, $50,000.

The bill also provides an appropriation of $5,000 for three tent houses and refrigerating plant at the Key West Marine hospital and $7,000 for repairs and equipment of the detention hulk at the Key West quarantine station.

The war department asked an appropriation of $350,000 for the enlargement and reclamation of Fort Taylor, Key West, but the appropriations committee did not include the item in the bill.

Mr. Banskett, a former newspaper man, began his newspaper work at St. Augustine, Fla. He was later made city editor of the Jacksonville Times Union, continuing in that position until appointed private secretary to Senator Talferro, with whom he served two years.

He then returned to Florida and was appointed state historian, devoting two years to writing a history of that state. Upon the completion of that task he was appointed secretary to Senator Bryan.

WITHOUT SOME SENSATIONAL

Developments Transpire President Will Not Go To Congress This Week

Washington, Feb. 19.—There are strong indications, tonight, that unless some sensational developments precipitate immediate action, the president's next trip to congress in the crisis with Germany will be postponed until a few days before the adjournment of congress, March fourth.

The belief is still prevalent in official circles that the president intends to ask congress for authority to protect Americans and their ships against illegal submarine attack.

While a minority opposition in both houses exists, leaders are satisfied that the authority will be given if asked for by President Wilson.

Demands for the relief of shipping held in American and neutral ports are pouring into the White House and executive departments.

SHAVE A NECESSITY EVEN ON SUNDAYS IN ST. AUGUSTINE

St. Augustine, Feb. 19.—A shave is a necessity, even on Sundays, and the jury that considered the case of the three barbers on trial in Judge Jackson's court so ruled. Edgar Mancuy, E. B. Genovar and J. D. Grady were arrested charged with operating their shops on Sundays, the complaint being lodged by other barbers in the city who closed their shops on Sundays. The three men were placed on trial in Judge Jackson's court and a jury was soon secured. The witnesses for the prosecution were Thos. Keegan, Francis Pomar and Alphonse Beaman. They testified that the places were open for business, but no actual evidence was submitted, showing that the witnesses saw the defendants at work. The fact that a shave, hair cut or bath came under the classification of comforts and necessities was established. The defendants were represented by E. Noble Calhoun, Esq. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty, and none of the knights of the shears will be worried by stripes other than those of the barber poles.

Back To Original Lines On the Tigris After Capturing Trenches

THE BRITISH HELD ON

Only For A Short Time and Could Not Withstand Counter Attacks

London, Feb. 19.—British troops on the left bank of the Tigris in Iraq, took the offensive, Saturday, against the Turks at Sannaiyat, says a British official statement.

The British troops captured two front lines of the Turkish trenches on a frontage of three hundred and fifty and five hundred yards, respectively.

General Course of the War. Associated Press, Feb. 19.—The tenure of the British positions which they captured from the Turks on the Iraq front was short lived, two heavy counter attacks forcing them back to their original lines.

Aside from this engagement, no fighting of importance is reported in any of the latest official communications.

Operations on all fronts have been carried out by small raiding parties, sappers and artillery.

London reports that on the front in France the British carried out a successful raid east of Sochez, while Berlin reports that the attempted British advance southeast of Messines and north of Armentieres, resulted in failure.

Artillery duels between the French and Germans at several sectors on the Verdun front have become quite severe.

On the line from the Baltic Sea to Rumania, there have been no developments.

The usual artillery actions and skirmishes continue in the Austro-Italian theatre and on the Macedonia front.

Submarines sunk two British steamers, with an aggregate of eight thousand tons.

DESIGNS NEW GUN WHICH WILL REACH HOSTILE AIRSHIPS

Tampa, Feb. 19.—R. F. Bettis, county surveyor, states that he has prepared specifications for the construction of a type of rifle, that he declares, will be an effective means of defense against aircraft in case of war and that will be comparatively inexpensive to manufacture and supply with ammunition.

The rifle, he states, is to have a barrel seven feet long so bored as to give the bullet, of 40-calibre and an inch and a half long, a half turn before emerging from the muzzle. The rifle will weigh twenty-eight pounds and, while rather heavy, would be used as a detachable piece to be fired from the shoulder instead of being mounted. In this way it could be discharged at any angle desired.

Mr. Bettis declares that with the use of a rifle bullet with a hole through it from front to back the rifle will carry for 6,000 yards on a level or half that distance when fired straight up. The effect of the hollow bullet is to tear a very large hole in anything it strikes.

Mr. Bettis believes that a large number of these rifles should be kept on hand at exposed points and should be fired simultaneously by an entire company of men when the aircraft appears, sending so many bullets into it that it will be impossible for the aviator or his machine to escape destruction. The expense of firing these rifles will be very small when compared to the heavy anti-aircraft guns in general use at the present time in Europe, which are unhandy to use and fire only one bullet or shell at a time. The effect of the firing of a large number of the rifles described by Mr. Bettis would be that of discharging a shotgun into a flock of birds.

Mr. Bettis is writing the war department asking that a model rifle of the pattern he has described be manufactured and tested. In case it proves a success Mr. Bettis states that he will present the pattern to the government free of charge.

Is Measure Proposed By Congress To Suppress Neutrality Violations

SEN. CUMMINS OPPOSES

Measure Which He Says Will Suppress Free Speech and Free Press

Washington, Feb. 19.—Debate on the administration measure to punish espionage and violations of neutrality and conspiracies of sympathizers or agents of foreign governments, was concluded, tonight.

A vote was taken and a majority of the thirty five senators present favored the bill. Efforts to get a quorum failed.

It is expected that the bill will be passed tomorrow.

Senator Cummins said that the espionage measure was the most drastic and stringent ever proposed to curb a free people in time of peace or war.

He declared that the government would have absolute power in war time to suppress newspapers and to prevent debate in congress. He objected strongly to the particular portion of the bill making it a crime to spread any report that might interfere with military operations by other persons, but that the provisions intended to prevent the spreading of reports might interfere with military operations by causing disaffection.

WILSON NOTE TO CUBANS

Declares He Will Stand By Legal Government of President Menocal

Havana, Feb. 19.—The outstanding feature of today's development in the revolution movement of Cuba, was a note from President Wilson, delivered at the presidential palace by William E. Gonzales, American minister, in which President Wilson stated he would support the legally constituted government and President Menocal unqualifiedly. The note felt by a bomb among sympathizers of the revolt and caused great jubilation and satisfaction among government officials.

Latest reports indicate that only at Camaguey and Santiago are there important forces to deal with. Rafael Martinez, Ybor Cuban coval at Tampa, it was learned today, made complaint before the United States post-office inspector of the district of Jacksonville against Orestes Ferrara and Dr. Raimundo Cabrera, charging them with sending through the mails statements reflecting on the honor of President Menocal.

WILL HOLD UP DECISION ON THE PAPER QUESTION

Washington, Feb. 19.—The Federal Trade Commission will withhold its decision on the proposal of a large group of American and Canadian news print paper makers that the commission fix the price for their product until other manufacturers are heard from.

It is the general belief that most of the other manufacturers will support the suggestion and that the commission will approve it.

Manufacturers not concurring in the proposal have been requested to present their views before the commission, Friday.

Councilman Will Make Tour of Cities to Investigate Warehouse Plans

ONLY ONE BID MADE

And It Was Rejected at Special City Session Council Last Night

At the adjourned meeting held last night the city council rejected the only bid received on the warehouse and decided that they would begin all over again after Councilman Brady has visited a number of seaport cities and investigate warehouse conditions.

The entire council was present with Chairman Hefty presiding. As soon as the meeting was called to order Mr. Randolph presented the report of the bids received in reply to the advertisement of the council. The report stated that only one bid had been received on the warehouse, that of E. W. Parker, who offered bids on the one, three and five sections both as to galvanized steel siding and asbestos protected siding. There was slight difference between the two materials, and the report recommended the acceptance of the bid for asbestos metal siding which was, for one section, $13,029; three sections $28,692.86; five sections, $43,933.30.

On the proposals for flooring, no bids were received for the wood block floor and only one from James R. Little for the concrete floor. The figures were, one section, $933.18; three sections, $2,595.60; five sections, $4,109.70. The report recommended the rejection of the bid.

The Northern Engineering Works, of Detroit, filed the only bid for the traveling crane. The figures, $3,375.00, were in the opinion of the engineers, too high and they recommended the rejection of the bid by the council.

A general discussion of the warehouse proposition followed in which several members of council made it plain that while they approved of the Randolph company as engineers, and the Randolph plan of building, it was not the kind of building they wanted and hence a motion to reject the bids was unanimously carried.

Councilman Erbert plead ignorance of any plans for the warehouse and was assured that such plans had been in the Engineer's office for more than two years. He thought the city was getting more doors than warehouses.

Councilmen Romfh and Highleyman were agreed on the proposition that there was no need for haste and that no action should be taken until after conditions in other cities had been investigated. To this end Mr. Romfh moved that Councilman Brady be sent to a number of cities on the seacoast and after a full investigation of conditions report to the council his findings. Mr. Brady agreed to make the trip in the near future, and the motion was unanimously carried.

The only other business to come before council was the reading of ordinance No. 234, placing the salary of the planning inspector at $130 a month, effective February 1, 1917. This passed on its first reading, after which the meeting adjourned.

NIGHT SESSIONS FROM NOW ON

House Determined To Clear Off Calendar By March Fourth

Washington, Feb. 19.—Night sessions of the house for the most of the time from tomorrow until adjournment of congress are planned by democratic leaders, in order to expedite and get through with the necessary legislation before this congress expires on March fourth.

The army appropriation bill will be considered, tomorrow, and the military academy bill will follow. The Sundry civil service bill was reported today.

There will be fights over the prohibition measures including the senate amendment to the postoffice bill, and the senate bill for prohibition in the District of Columbia, which are liable to be precipitated at any time.

DADE FARMERS BEING URGED TO CO-OPERATE

Can Make County Fair the Best Ever Held Says Secretary Blackman

In a vigorous appeal to the farmers of Dade county E. V. Blackman, secretary and general manager of the Dade County Fair, urges them to exhibit everything they grow or raise, and make the fair this year the best one ever held. His statement is as follows:

"To the farmers of Dade county: For twenty years Dade county has held its annual fair, without cessation, although during these years there have been more or less drawbacks and discouraging conditions, yet the farmers and fruit growers through the county have never failed the Fair Association and each year regardless of conditions a display has been maintained that has been most credible, a display of the products of Dade county that has always been a surprise to the thousands of visitors and has had a great influence in the bringing to Dade county thousands of permanent settlers. During these years, Miami has grown from a hamlet of a few hundred inhabitants to a city of nearly thirty thousand people, with every modern convenience known in the older cities throughout the United States. During these years, the country districts have made a most phenomenal growth, hundreds of miles of hard surface roads have been built, palatial homes have taken the place of the log cabin, thousands of acres of citrus trees have taken the place of the pine forests and in every portion of the county, there is a thrift evident that other sections do not nor can attain. The Dade County Fair, has been the most potent factor of all in bringing about this wonderful change. Its wonderful climate, of course has been a great factor, but not the chief factor.

"In case the soils of Dade county had proven barren, of no value whatever for agricultural or horticultural purposes, there would today have been no city of Miami with its thirty thousand inhabitants; there would be no thousands of acres planted and yielding an abundance of citrus and other fruits; there would be no hundreds of miles of hard-surface roads, covering the entire county; there would be no thriving villages in different portions of the county; there would not have been the push and energy that has been displayed, which has built a city and prosperous towns and turned a veritable wilderness into the most prosperous county in the state of Florida. If the land had not yielded its increase in a most wonderful measure; but on the other hand had proven barren and worthless, climate and advertising would have been of no avail, hence the men that have contributed most to the building up of this wonderful country, have been the men behind the hoe," the men through encouragement and discouragements, have kept a steady strong hand in the demonstration of what the soils of Dade county will add to produce although with many the "man behind the hoe," is given very little credit for what he has been instrumental in doing.

Climate, railroads, steamship lines, deep water and all the blessings which the residents of Dade county and Miami enjoy, are surely great factors, which have done much toward the development of Miami and Dade county; but the main and basic factor is and has been, that the soils of Dade county are productive and that farmers and fruit growers do and have for years been sending out vast quantities of fruits and vegetables to supply the demands of the people who live in a far less favored part of the country, during the winter season.

"Although it is a fact that a serious freeze has swept down over this section, yet the farmer and fruit growers are not discouraged, but have gone to work to recuperate their losses.

"In some cases we have been advised not to hold the Twenty-First annual Dade County Fair, on account of the cold; but we do not think this good or sound advice.

"In the early days of the Dade County Fair, while it was under the management of the Florida East Coast Railway, a disaster came in the shape of cold, blighting the crops. The advice given by a large number was 'do not attempt to hold a fair this year.' The premium lists were printed and distributed and we felt that it would harm Dade county more to give up the fair, than it would to hold the fair, even if the display was small. The fair was held, with the most flattering results.

PROPHET NASH GOING NORTH IS REPORTED

Said To Have Been Seen Last Night Headed For A Cool Climate

HIS TENT ENGAGEMENT

Failed To Materialize—Interested Audience and Police Were Promptly On Hand

John Nash, the self-styled Israelite pilgrim, who was to have spoken at the Gospel Mission tent at avenue F and Eleventh street last night, failed to appear as scheduled and thereby probably escaped a warm reception, for more than two hundred especially interested citizens were present and he might have been dealt with sharply had he attempted to make remarks against the United States flag such as are contained in circulars that he had given out.

At the gospel tent last night Mrs. M. W. Henderson explained that Nash had only been invited to handle a poisonous snake which she herself had been doing without injury by persons claiming to be immune from poison. Neither did she give Nash permission to preach on negro equality she said, and when the "prophet" called at the tent yesterday afternoon she told him that she would not tolerate any such thing as an insult to the flag but said that Nash could come back to the tent and preach if he felt led to do so.

The fact that the "prophet" was not led to return to the gospel tent was shown by his absence when the time of beginning the service arrived, for he was not to be seen, and after the large crowd had waited in vain for him to appear several of the men jumped in their automobiles and proceeded toward Lemon City where it was reported that he had been seen walking northward.

Nash was in the city late yesterday afternoon, and later a report came back that he was seen going out of the city in the vicinity of Buena Vista. That the man was going out of the city was indicated later in the evening when some parties reported having seen him on the road near that place about 8 o'clock last night.

The self-styled prophet would have probably been dealt with severely by some of the men who were at the gospel tent last night, and the police were on hand to prevent any disturbance. Earlier in the day Chief Whitman gave orders to the police to be on hand and arrest Nash immediately if he attempted to make any utterances against the flag or make any remarks that might tend to incite riot.

J. E. Ingraham, J. R. Parrott and other officials of the Florida East Coast Railway, visited the fair and were greatly elated over the magnificent display of vegetables which had been gathered together. In this time of need, the "man behind the hoe," did not desert us; but brought in to the fair such products as he had and the bringing in of the small lots from each farmer made a display that was most satisfactory and dispelled the dark cloud that hung over the future of Dade county, by the publishing abroad a story that "everything in Dade County had been frozen out." The fact that the fair was held within two or three weeks after the cold and a display that could not have been duplicated in any section of the United States was made, was one of Dade County's great achievements and advertisements. Thousands of visitors from the north, wrote to their friends, newspapers in all sections of the United States commented most favorably on the fair and what was on exhibition. This disaster turned out to be a great and telling advertisement for Miami and Dade county. Had the farmers at that time deserted us, kept their products at home or shipped them to the north, refusing to show their products, the fair would have been a failure and a dismal one; but the "man behind the hoe," came forward, made his exhibit and crowned the fair as one of the biggest successes it had ever made up to that time.

"We are now facing a disaster, one that is now widespread and we appeal to the farmers who have saved their crops to stand by the fair, bring in whatever they may have for exhibition purposes and make the Twenty-First Annual Fair the most successful fair held. The fair has reached its majority—twenty one years—and with the co-operation of the most memorable fair held in its history. In the years past the farmers and fruit growers have never disappointed the Fair Association and will not this year. We want to make this the crowning effort of twenty-one years of continued service.

OBITUARY

C. J. Peterson.
C. J. Peterson, who has been confined in the city hospital for several days, died at that institution about midnight last night. The deceased had been a sufferer from Bright's disease. The body was taken to the Combs undertaking establishment where it will be prepared for burial.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD

"Not exactly the Miami brand," said Meteorologist Gray yesterday, "but the entire country is enjoying remarkably good weather today." It is rather unusual that there is not a disturbance of any kind anywhere in the country. A cold wave, however, is in evidence over the extreme northwest, and the indications are that it will move in and cause a drop in temperatures as far south as the northern part of the state. Miami will have a lower temperature, but as yet there is nothing uncomfortable in sight."

GEN. FUNSTON DIES SUDDENLY

ton replied; and he made good by repulsing the Filipinos.

When the volunteers were discharged, Funston retained his rank as a member of the regular army. As a regular he made a mark by maintaining order in San Francisco during the disaster of 1906. Temporarily in charge of the troops at the Presidio, when the disturbance came, he quickly declared martial law and set about obtaining accommodations for the homeless, keeping down the cost of food and arresting trouble-makers. It was while he was in command of the troops at Vera Cruz in 1914 that he was raised to the rank of major general. He then was 49 years old.

The ambition of Funston's youth was to go to West Point, but he failed in an entrance examination. In later years he repeatedly outranked West Pointers who were in school when he failed of admission.

Physically, Funston was one of the smallest men in the United States army. He was barely five feet and five inches tall and usually weighed less than 120 pounds. In civil life he was modest and retiring.

News Reaches Washington
Washington, Feb. 19.—The news of Major General Frederick Funston's death was telegraphed to Secretary Baker's home where the president and most of the ranking officers in Washington were present at a dinner.

General Funston was the youngest major general of the line, being fifty one years of age. He has been the commanding general of the southern department of the United States army since 1915, and since March 1915 he has been in command of all the United States forces on the Mexican border, always working at his usual pace.

Secretary Baker paid a high tribute to General Funston.

Pershing in Command.
Washington, Feb. 19.—Major General Pershing, who has been in command of El Paso district since the troops were withdrawn from Mexico, automatically succeeds to duties of commander of the southern department until an appointment is made. He was recently made Major-General. He is the only officer of that rank now assigned to the southern department.

Cause of Death.
San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 19.—Col. M. W. Ireland, Funston's physician, said tonight that death was caused by angina sclerosis of arteries of the heart. He added that death was immediate and without pain.

BEANS ARE NOW A LUXURY.

One Writer Buys Them by the Dozen For Necklaces

There was once a time when the bean was held in such low esteem on account of its cheapness that the government fed it to soldiers. We used to refer to soldiers as "poor devils," because they had nothing to eat but beans.

Beans were consumed in large quantities by the army and by poor people, including newspaper persons who frequented the low-browed restaurants. To realize fully the low station of the bean at the time one need only remember that the jitney restaurants were all called "beaneries."

But that was back in the days when the Primrose, Barlow and West minstrels represented the highest type of theatrical diversions and people ate dinner at noon.

A few days ago our fireside companion discovered that beefsteak was growing to be somewhat above our station in life and expressed the fear starvation was imminent.

"Fear not, little one," said we; "beans shall sustain us and keep us alive. From time immemorial the people have fallen back upon this faithful vegetable in times of stress."

So we hied to the grocer to buy enough beans to last us until spring. We thought about 75 cents would turn the trick.

"Beans retail at $7.50 a bushel," said the grocer.

"On account of the war?" we gasped, as we clutched a cracker barrel for support.

"No," he replied. "Not on account of the war, but on account of the price."

We told him we had always bought beans for 90 cents a bushel, but that didn't seem to affect him. We bought three dozen beans and took them home. The wife will make a necklace of them.—New York Mail.

SOME REAL FISHING.

A party consisting of C. L. Bingham of Chicago and C. A. Shirk of Muncie, Ind., were out on the charter-boat Angler, Captain John Crosssett, yesterday and brought in a large number of fish. In all there were twenty-seven fish of eight varieties, and it was one of the best catches that has been brought into the Royal Palm dock this season. The catch included the largest ceco of the season which attracted attention while photographs were being taken. It was Mr. Shirk's first trip to the fishing banks and he expressed himself as being delighted with the sport.

"BLIND JUSTICE"DEATH LEAP FROM BRIDGE IN TENNESSEE

Los Angeles Man Leaves Note Placing Blame On Too Much Booze

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 19.—Pinned to the floor of the Walnut street bridge with a pocket knife, the following note, scribbled with a pencil on a plain sheet of paper, explains the suicide of Julian Blake, of Los Angeles, who plunged to his death in the Tennessee shortly after noon Friday.

"Dear Friends—I have had my fun, so here goes nothing. Please notify my wife and boy at 943 Santee street, Los Angeles, Cal., whom I left on Dec. 16, 1916. Too much booze is all I can blame my trouble to. I have my life insured for $1,500 in favor of my wife, Mary Blake, or Mrs. J. C. Blake. She has the policy I suppose. I also have a paid-up membership in the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie 102, at 320 South Main street, Los Angeles, Cal., as the Eagles will pay $100 towards my funeral.

(Signed) JULIAN BLAKE.
The message was written with a pencil and pinned down with a blade of Blake's knife. The sum of $1.90 lay on top of it. Nearby was his hat. Almost immediately after Blake plunged into the swirling waters people along the river bank put out in boats to the spot where he went down. They were too late; the body had vanished from sight. Searchers are seeking to locate the body.

Shortly after noon he reached the Walnut street bridge, walked to pier No. 3, left the note and hat, climbed to the west railing and jumped into the icy waters beneath.

As his body hurtled through the air, his desire to die evidently changed, for when he struck the water he attempted—in vain—to swim to land. For a space of three minutes, according to observers, he tried to swim with one arm, the other seeming to have been broken.

Shouts from workers on the new county bridge aroused George Thompson and L. M. Andress, boatmen near the foot of the bridge, who put out in gas line launches in an effort to save the would-be-suicide.

Before they could reach the struggling man his body had gone down below the surface of the waters. The boatmen waited in vain for the body to come up.

BURGESS PLAYERS SEEN IN "SINNERS" AT STRAND THEATRE

The Hazle Burgess players gave a most excellent presentation of "Sinners," a four act drama, last night and will continue the play through Tuesday and Wednesday night and Wednesday matinee. It is a play quite different from any given by this company before and will be enjoyed by all who take kindly to philosophy for it is teeming with terse sayings that are so true they are startling.

The assignment of characters is as follows:
"Bob" Merrick—Stuart Robinson.
Horse Worth—C. Russell Sage.
"Willie" Morgan—Bert Leigh.
Joe Garfield—John A. Wise.
Doctor Simpson—William Scheller.
Mary Horton—Hazel Burgess.
Hilda Newton—Bess Brower.
Polly Cary—Kirsteen Forrest.
Sadie—Theo Bara.

As "a dead game sport," Bert Leigh appears in a new role which he takes "to a queen's taste."

Miss Burgess is always sweet and natural and everyone was glad that her role called for these characteristics. The others, especially "Polly," gave fine interpretations of difficult roles and there was really good acting from every one in the cast.

The play not only entertains but makes the audience think: Life is analyzed to a fine point in the four short acts and a good wholesome finale follows the first act which it must be confessed is somewhat of a shock. The play will draw large houses because it is "different" and because it is a finished production.

REVIVAL OF MOVE TO CHANGE TIME INTERESTS MIAMI

The movement started by Kirk Munroe at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce several months ago to save the people of this section an hour of daylight by changing from central to eastern time, was brought back home yesterday when President Sewell, of the Chamber of Commerce, received a telegram from the secretary of the National Daylight Saving association asking that the civic bodies of Miami use their influence to have a bill now in the committee's hands favorably reported to congress. It was requested that telegrams be sent to President Wilson, the senators from Florida and the representatives from this district asking the use of their influence in securing the passage of the bill. The proposed law would straighten out the lines of the time zones, to place all cities in their proper places, and abolish the use of other than the official time for any given section by railroads or other agencies.

In accordance with the request, telegrams were sent out yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce.

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD

TWO BISHOPS ARE EXPECTED DURING LENT

Solemn Season Begins Tomorrow—Calendars For Episcopalians and Catholics

The Lenten season will be ushered in tomorrow with special morning and evening services at the Catholic and Episcopal churches. The church calendars promise unusual activity for the members of the congregations as well as for the pastors in charge. Besides the regular services, each of the churches will be preparing large classes for confirmation as both Bishop Curley of the Catholic Diocese and Bishop Mann of the Episcopalian Diocese are expected to visit Miami during the Lenten season. Tentative plans for other ceremonies are being made which will be announced later.

Trinity Episcopal.

The Lenten services will begin at Trinity Episcopal church with Holy Communion at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning and during the entire season there will be daily services as follows: Holy Communion at 7 a. m. and Litany or Penitential offering at 4 p. m. On Wednesdays and Fridays there will be services at 7:30 p. m. Classes in instruction have been organized and a large number are being prepared to be presented to the bishop for confirmation. It is expected that the bishop will be here to administer confirmation on Sunday, March 11. The Sunday school has organized a missionary society and mite boxes will be passed during the Lenten season for a special missionary offering.

Catholic Calendar.

The calendar of the church of the Holy Name includes masses on Sundays at 6, 7:30 and 10:30 a. m. Sunday school after the 7:30 mass. Beads, sermon and benediction at 7:30 p. m. Mass on week days at 6:15 and 7 a. m. Beads, sermon and benediction every Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Devotions for the children at 2:30 p. m. Ways of the cross and benediction every Friday at 7:30 and for the children at 2:30 p. m. There will be three masses on Ash Wednesday, at 6, 7 and 8 a. m. On Sunday, March 4, the Daughters of Isabella will receive communion in a body at the 7:30 mass and the Knights of Columbus will receive at the 8:30 mass, on which occasion Bishop Curley will officiate.

Lenten Regulations.

The regulations for Catholics during the Lenten period have been promulgated as follows:

1. All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first year, unless exempt by dispensation or legitimate cause, are bound to observe the fast of Lent.
2. They are to take only one meal a day, except on Sundays.
3. The meal permitted on fast days is not to be taken till about noon.
4. A small refreshment, commonly called a collation, is permitted in the evening.
5. The following persons are exempt from the obligation of fasting: Persons under twenty-one years of age; the sick; nursing women, those obliged to do hard work; those who through weakness can not fast without great prejudice to their health.

By virtue of an indulgent to the United States, dated August 3, 1887, the following special dispensations are granted:

1. The use of flesh meat is permitted at all meals except on Sundays, and once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, with the exception of the second and last Saturday of Lent. But flesh meat and fish are not to be used at the same meal during Lent, even on Sundays.
2. The use of butter, cheese, milk and eggs is also permitted every day in Lent.
3. It is allowed to take in the morning some warm liquid, as tea, coffee, chocolate, made with water, and with this liquid a small piece of bread.
4. Those for whom the hour of noon may be an inconvenient time for dinner, may take their collation at noon, and dinner in the evening.
5. The use of lard or dripping, instead of butter, is permitted in preparing food.

6. Those mentioned in Section 5, Chapter 1, as exempted from law of fasting are allowed to take meat three times a day on all Sundays, Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of Lent.
7. By a special indulgent, granted to the bishops of the United States March 15, 1895, working people and their households are allowed to take meat once a day on all fast days and days of abstinence during the year, except on all Fridays, Ash-Wednesday, the Wednesday and Saturday of Holy Week, and Christmas Eve. This class, therefore, are allowed meat once a day, even on the Wednesdays of Lent and the second Saturday of Lent, when others are forbidden the use of meat.

2. The faithful are reminded that, besides the obligation of fasting, imposed by the church, this holy season of Lent should be, in an especial manner, a time of earnest prayer, of sorrow for sin, of seclusion from the world of amusements, and of generous almsgiving.

3. The Paschal time extends from the first Sunday of Lent till Trinity Sunday, during which time all Catholics who have attained the proper age are bound to receive worthily Holy Communion. The holy season of Lent

NASSAU GAY WITH A WEEK OF TENNIS

Some of the Prominent Entries Announced for Cups and Championships

(Special to The Herald.)

Nassau, Bahamas Islands, Feb. 17.—With only a few remaining days in which to get in readiness for Washington Birthday week, Nassau has completely lost its tropic calm and is in a wild flurry of excitement. Commencing on Monday, with the first round of the men's singles for the George Lauder, Jr., challenge cup, sporting and social events will follow so thick and fast as to keep the Americans here on the go from morning until night.

Added interest attaches to the tennis championship owing to the fact that Mr. A. Ware Merriam of Milton, Mass., two-time winner of the tournament, has only to win this year to secure permanent possession of the great George Lauder, Jr., challenge cup, one of the largest and handsomest trophies in competition. In the field against him are a number of players from New York, including Dr. Forbes Hawks, H. K. Sturdy, McHarg Davenport, William C. Biddle, George Bacon, J. H. Williams, D. Q. Brown, N. Doubleday and R. H. Sturge. Entered in the ladies' singles are Miss Beardsley, Miss Enid Alden, Miss Mamie Beste, Mrs. McHarg Davenport, Mrs. Forbes Hawks, of New York; Miss Margaret Wetmore, of New Britain, Mrs. A. W. Merriam of Milton, Mass., and Mrs. George Johnson of Hackensack, N. J.

The ladies' singles tournament completed on Friday was won by Miss Enid Alden who won from Mrs. McHarg Davenport 8-6; 6-2, in a match closer than indicated by the score. Both players were hitting the ball well and the play kept a good sized gallery in suspense throughout.

Mr. A. Ware Merriam left the tennis courts long enough on Thursday to make the lowest score in the qualifying round of the golf championship, a 91 which was one below W. L. Wainnes of Canada. Two eights qualified and match play commenced Friday. First eight: W. A. Merriam defeated Miss Ella Wagner; W. L. Wainnes defeated Mrs. Merriam; W. A. Gardner defeated J. W. Greene; Mrs. W. A. Gardner defeated C. H. Barber. Second eight: Miss Gardner defeated Miss Petersen; Miss G. Williams defeated Wm. Biddle; Miss Ross defeated H. Davenport; Mr. Buck defeated Miss Overy.

The Florida East Coast golf championship which commences on the 26th of this month promises to develop some splendid golf. Among those who are taking heavy falls out of Colonel Bogey these days and who should give a good account of themselves in the coming tournament are Messrs. W. A. Gardner of Buffalo, N. Y., R. J. Collier, B. Atha, Francis N. Doubleday, Charles Belmont Davis of New York, George Terwilliger, W. A. Walsh, J. B. Ross, G. W. Rikes of Newark, N. J., B. W. Petersen, J. R. Bullard, H. L. Humphrey, E. E. Gray, R. S. Sinclair, D. W. Price, J. H. Coughy, George Altmeyer, and E. Thompson.

The season according to present indications will be larger in March than in February as many who gave up reservations earlier in the season are now taking them up again. Among those booked at the Colonial by the S. S. Mexico are Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Doubleday and Mr. and Mrs. B. Winnill of Oyster Bay, L. I., Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ogden of Easthampton, L. I., Colonel Samuel L. Nicholson and Mr. R. H. Sturges of Providence, R. I., H. K. Sturdy, D. Q. Brown, Mrs. C. E. Flynn, Miss Florence Brown, Mrs. A. W. Cameron, Mr. H. H. Williams of New York, Miss Edith Tracey of Syracuse, N. Y., Dr. J. S. Phillips of Boston, Mr. H. W. Holmes of Detroit, Mich.

Foresight vs. Hindsight

Every day we hear people say: "If father had only bought a certain piece of property at a certain price, at a certain time, we children would all have been left independent. He had the ready money and he had the opportunity, but unfortunately father couldn't see that far ahead—he was asleep at the switch, and blind to his own surroundings."

Our children will be saying the same thing about us if we overlook the wonderful opportunities now offered at Miami Suburban Acres. Oh, if our foresight were as good as our hindsight, we would all be millionaires. Why is it that some have lived in Miami for 4 or 5 years and yet are barely "getting by," while thousands of others with equal opportunities have become wealthy? The answer is that the former has been content to work for a weekly wage and spend it as he earned it, and the latter has taken advantage of a few real estate investments. To which class do you belong?

You are now offered a chance to buy one of Miami's Choicest Building Lots for only DIRECTIONS:—To go to Miami Suburban Acres, go out 12th or 20th Street to Orange Glade School, then south one mile to Waldin Avenue.

Price of Lots for few days $75.00 to $150.00

These ridiculously low prices are positively good only for 11 days, or until half the lots are sold. Prices will then be greatly advanced, and present terms discontinued. The above prices are less than acreage prices, but you must act at once. Don't delay.

INVESTORS AND SPECULATORS

There is more money made by the rise of real estate values than from all other causes combined, and the money made by enhanced values is the "sweetest money ever made." Real estate is the absolute basis of all wealth, and there is no such thing as losing money on a Miami real estate investment. It is the safest, surest and most profitable investment you can make. The opportunity today is better than ever before. Miami Suburban Acres offers you a rare chance to buy high grade, well located home sites on ground floor prices and on terms within the reach of all. 200 of these fine lots have been sold during the past week to representative buyers from twenty different states. Many will soon erect handsome winter homes. Imagine what effect these fine homes will have on values in this immediate vicinity.

Build and Rent Houses

The high rents in Miami pay large dividends on the money invested. Rental properties are scarce. There are no good vacant houses in town. Buy one or two of these lots, build houses and rent them. Buy these lots, they are low in price. Your investment will be small and your income large. Reason it out for yourself.

Simply to introduce the sale of Suburban Acres, we propose to give away absolutely FREE one five-passenger, latest model Chevrolet Touring Car. You should call at our office, 309 12th Street, at your earliest convenience and register for this valuable prize. You may be the lucky one. This will cost you nothing. Tickets Free to Everybody.

D. J. Conroy Says the City "Is Growing Fast By Leaps and Bounds"

D. J. Conroy, president of the D. J. Conroy Co., who recently opened a paint, hardware and wall paper store at 225 Twelfth street, arrived in Miami a few days ago and in an interview with a Herald reporter proved to be a very enthusiastic booster for Miami. Mr. Conroy said that wonderful improvements have taken place since his last visit to the city in November.

Improvements not noticed by the everyday resident are going on with wonderful rapidity and Mr. Conroy predicts that this city will have a growth as phenomenal as that of Los Angeles.

"In Jacksonville, where we have our main store, and all over the state and even in Atlanta where I visited this fall I heard of Miami, and her balmy climate and growth are on everyone's lips," said Mr. Conroy. "It is this sort of talk that convinces your city more than anything else. I have been very much impressed at the hospitality extended me by the business men while here. Unlike other metropolitan cities they have time to give one a cordial welcome. Our business here, which is managed by Mr. H. T. Fields, vice-president of the company, has opened up in good shape and we have thus far exceeded all expectations."

Mr. Conroy will be a regular visitor to Miami from now on.

CLOSING DETAILS FOR COUNTY FAIR ALL OF NEXT WEEK

Arrangements are being completed for the twenty-first annual exhibit of the Dade County Fair association which will be held in the fair building during all of next week.

All of the poultry coops have been built and are now on the ground, and workmen have begun to erect the stalls for the cattle and livestock display which will be larger than ever before in the history of the fair.

The material for the cattle stalls has been on the ground for several days, but on account of the necessity of keeping the Boulevard from Twelfth to Fourteenth street open this has not been placed together and workmen will start on it today.

The exhibit will take up all of this entire distance, as a large number of cattle entries have been made, while the usual number of cattle men who exhibited last year will do so again this season.

E. V. Blackman, general manager of the fair, will be busy all this week arranging the many entries and assigning each to their booths in the fair building which is being prepared for the big display.

While the fair arrangements are being made, the management of Elser pier are making preparations for the fair annex there, and an elaborate display of all kinds of agricultural implements and farming machinery will be seen during fair week.

This year's fair will be far superior to any previous exhibit. In point of numbers there will be more exhibitors, and the cost of the display will far exceed that of any previous year.

RAIN IS PREDICTED.

Weather forecast for this week by the weather bureau in Washington predicts fair conditions in the South Atlantic and East Gulf States until Friday or Saturday, when rain and colder is probable.

Defendants Heavily Mulcted For Selling Liquor In Violation of Law

POLICE SAY GAMBLING

Was Going On At Thirteenth and Avenue D Club—Fines and Forfeitures

Charged with selling liquor unlawfully and operating a gambling house, H. Prias was fined $125 and Pete Kostallas $50 by Judge Blanton in the municipal court, yesterday morning.

According to Plainclothesmen Curry and Bishop, the two men have been operating a club room on the second floor of a building at avenue D and Thirteenth street where the police claim they have been conducting a gambling joint and selling liquor. Complaints came to the police from several parties who knew of the existence of the place. The police also arrested Bill Cariss and Harry Angeles, alleged inmates of the place, who were each fined $10 on charges of gambling.

Fifty Cases Yesterday. Judge Blanton had about fifty cases before him in the police court yesterday as a result of police activity over Sunday, and the court room was crowded.

Philips Pearl, who was arrested on a charge of being a suspicious character, was discharged along with Hammond Kirt, who was arrested on a similar complaint.

Kate April, white, was charged with disorderly conduct by using threatening language. She was discharged.

Among the others who were dismissed by the court were A. L. Shatts, charged with blocking traffic; Joseph Kombridge, colored, who was charged with selling liquor; Collins, charged with being drunk and asleep on private property; Isadore Fine, disturbing the peace by fighting; Joe Cosgrove, drunk; Nancy Story, colored, charged with being out after 10 p. m.

The cases continued were those of Lawrence Sands, charged with being drunk and disturbing the peace; W. Wilson, colored, charged with assault with a knife and A. E. McCarthy, charged with reckless driving of an automobile.

P. Mattie, colored, charged with talking to prisoners in jail was released under suspended sentence.

Fines were imposed as follows: William Johnson, colored, disorderly by assault, $10 or twenty days; Rabbit White, colored, drunk and disorderly by using profane language, $5 or ten days; Arthur Warren, drunk and disturbing the peace by fighting, $5 or ten days; McHanley drunk and disorderly, $5 or ten days; James Henderson, drunk and disorderly, $5 or ten days; John Wells, drunk and using profane language, $5 or ten days; Dick Robison, colored, drunk and asleep on street, $5 or ten days; Steve Nix, colored, disorderly conduct, $5 or ten days; A. G. Lawton, colored, drunk on street, $5 or ten days; W. S. Walker, riding bicycle on sidewalk, $5 or ten days.

Those who forfeited their bail were George Agelarakis, who was under a $5 bond for disorderly conduct; Thompson, charged with parking an automobile in Hardieville; Walter Culmer, negro, charged with riding a bicycle recklessly; William McPherson, drunk and disorderly; H. K. McPhail, driving an auto with cut out open; Charles Myers, drunk on street; Will Johnson and George Murphy, drunk on street; William Gunter, J. E. Anderson, drunk on street; W. M. Roberts, drunk and using profane language; Sam Edwards, disorderly conduct; Hazel Thornton, drunk and using profane language; Jennie Williams and Louise Sawyer, Alma Winda, Corene Williams, disorderly conduct; Albert Smith, colored, disorderly conduct; Ben Morrison, colored talking through window of city jail; Will Brodick, drunk and asleep on private property; L. T. Allen reckless driving; A. Newbold, profane language; Daisy Donald, drunk and disorderly; Thomas M. Lightfoot, drunk and crazy.

FIFTY CARS IN MOTORCADE FROM TAMPA

Change In Date For Trip Is Explained In Letter To Mr. Livingston

Advices are received here that when the Tampa motorcade leaves for Miami March 25, there will be fifty automobiles in line.

In a letter to Secretary Livingston, of the Miami Chamber of Commerce, the secretary of the Tampa Board of Trade writes that "the idea of getting to Miami at the same time the Everglades committee of the legislature was there has been abandoned for the reason that the trip is being made for business and social reasons and it is deemed unwise to mix politics with it."

Another reason given for the postponement is that the motorcade will be composed of at least fifty automobiles and each one will be filled so that there is no likelihood that hotel accommodations could be found for such a crowd at this time.

AMUSEMENTS

Benjamin Christie Today at Fotosho. Benjamin Christie is author, producer and star of the Vitaphone Blue Ribbon feature, "Blind Justice," which has created so much favorable comment and which is the attraction at the Fotosho Theatre today.

From the excellence of the story, production and acting one might imagine that an artist from each of these lines of endeavor had given his brains to the perfection of his particular work and in this way made the production all that it has proven itself to be.

However, Mr. Christie is entirely responsible for the picture in every way and has carried it past the line of critics and to the pulpit with flying colors.

The story itself, containing many dramatic scenes and directed with an artist's touch, forms a fitting background for the masterful characterization of Mr. Christie in a very difficult role.

His part is that of a man who, forced to leave his child and serve a term in prison for an atrocious murder of which he is innocent, becomes more or less of a weakling. When he is freed, he discovers the whereabouts of the woman who had betrayed him to the police. His determination to avenge himself returns, and like a madman he craftily completes his preparations to take her life in payment for the torture he has suffered through the loss of his child.

Druggist's Experience with Kidney Medicine

I have handled and sold Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root for some time and have heard customers claim that it had produced very satisfactory results in different ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder. I have nothing but favorable reports at hand and my personal opinion is that there is not anything on the market that will equal Swamp-Root for disease of the kidneys, liver and bladder and I know of a physician who is a very strong believer in the merits of Swamp-Root.

Very truly yours,

CROWDS ON SUNDAY AT BEACH RESORTS

The bathing pavilions and pleasure resorts at Miami Beach report record-breaking crowds on Sunday. The Dixie Transportation Company handled nearly three thousand passengers with their five boats, and both automobile lines did a capacity business all day. In addition, private automobiles carried hundreds besides the many who went on vehicles of every description.

MAKE READY FOR BUSINESS NEXT SEASON

Business Men of Miami Looking Ahead—Electric Company Spreading

Possibly without exception, every business concern in Miami is laying plans to take care of increased business next year. In every line records have been smashed this year and the wise ones know that it is only a fore-runner of the prospects for next season.

The Miami Electric did some record smashing last week when the output was the largest in the history; this week it will be still larger.

"It is always the case," said Manager Hyman, "that we do our largest business for the year the second week in February, and of course, the business this year is larger than any previous year."

Anticipating a greater increase next year a large new engine has been ordered and will be installed some time in August. At the same time the plant will be gone over thoroughly and made ready to take care of next season's business.

The five large boilers at the plant are now being fired by oil and the new fuel is giving ample satisfaction to the company as well as doing away with the smoke complaints.

GALA DAY AT MOORE HAVEN

Legislative Party Will See There What Is Possible Through Drainage

Today is another red letter day at Moore Haven, for that go-ahead little city has for her guests none other than the legislators who are taking a trip of inspection through the Everglades. Moore Haven has been the interesting stopping place for many distinguished parties of late, and in every case the impression that it has made has been wonderful, and there is no doubt that the members of the legislature will receive a great surprise in what has taken place at Moore Haven, and will receive an inspiration, inasmuch as it will give them a proper conception of what is possible in this wonderful state provided ample attention is given by those in charge of the drainage problem, for at Moore Haven may be seen the result of adequate drainage and it is nothing short of marvelous.

At this time when the production of food is a most serious problem, the interest being taken in land with proper productive possibilities is very marked. The big men of the country are showing a marked interest, and are buying farm lands, and the wonderful Moore Haven lands, with an all year round growing opportunity, and being surpassingly fertile, are gaining the direct attention of the biggest and brainiest men of the country. Moore Haven will provide a positive answer to every question that might arise in the mind of any of the legislators, and will no doubt mean definite action for the furthering of the whole drainage project in other sections.

Cape Sable Lands

Florida's Greatest and Most Productive Farm Lands

OFFERED AT PRICES WITHIN THE REACH OF EVERYONE. OWN A FARM AND HOME IN THE TROPICS

These lands are known to be the most fertile in the state and the richness of the soil, which saves thousands of dollars annually, expense that other lands require for fertilizer, makes them the best farming land to be found anywhere. The amount of money that one saves on the fertilizer bill alone will far more than pay the purchase price of the land.

The location is as much immune from frost as it is possible to find in the United States, for it is common knowledge that there is no frost line in this country, regardless of the fact that some people advertise otherwise. However, this land is safer than other locations, and it is farther south on the mainland.

Lack of rock is a pleasing factor, the average soil depth being about seven feet down to rock, and nowhere is it less than four feet in depth. The soil is composed of a very rich marl, which can be farmed successfully without fertilizer.

These lands are specially adapted to the cultivation of tomatoes, potatoes, sugar cane and other vegetable products, and on these lands crops will produce greater revenue to the acre, at less expense, than in any other portion of Florida.

SUFFERING CATS! GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug is a sticky ether compound, but dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.

It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

HE SAVED SEVENTEEN LIVES.

Death Claims the Hero Who Inquired "Did I Do My Best?"

Chicago.—Edward W. Spencer, first student lifesaver at Northwestern University, at Evanston, and "the hero of the Lady Elgin," died at Burbank, Cal., recently after a lingering illness. He was 81 years old.

His death recalls a bit of almost forgotten Chicago history. In 1860 the side-wheel steamer Lady Elgin collided with the schooner Augusta off Winnetka while bound for Milwaukee, and sank, with the loss of the lives of 295 passengers. Spencer's feat of rescuing seventeen persons was commemorated by the class of 1898, which erected a bronze memorial tablet in the Orrington Lunt library at the university June 3, 1908.

As Spencer sank with exhaustion on completing his final trip through the breakers and the surf he asked the question inscribed on the tablet, "Did I do my best?" His experience left him broken in health and he went to California to recuperate. He lived there until his death.

THE BIRTH OF A NATION NOW AT THE PARAMOUNT

D. W. GRIFFITH

Art is long, says the poet, and outlasts throne or emperor. Occasionally, however, old art ideals sway and totter to their fall, while a daring revolutionist seizes the sceptre and remarks the world. This is exactly what David Wark Griffith, foremost of directors, is believed by many critics to have done by the production of his magnificent spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," which will be seen at the Paramount this afternoon and tonight.

Griffith had an idea that oral speech could be eliminated in great drama. He supplied the absence of words by a symphonic musical score which fits the action like a garment. Result: a new kind of grand opera—motion picture plus music plus mechanical effects—that bids fair to surpass the achievements of the dramatic stage on the one hand and the most pretentious works of operatic composers on the other.

The director put on "The Birth of a Nation" as no other filmed play—not even "Cabaret" or "Quo Vadis"—had been put on. He used half of a great state for his locale; 150 years of American history as his subject; 18,000 people as his actors; 3,000 riders and steeds as his cavalry; 5,000 scenes instead of a few scores or a few hundred. His work dwarfed the old-fashioned stage art to such pettiness that many are wondering whether the so-called "indoor" drama is not doomed to long and possibly total eclipse.

"The Birth of a Nation" is an inspiring story of romance, love and patriotism culminating in the "times that tried men's souls," the times of civil war and reconstruction. Suggested by Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman," it covers a far wider scope and imparts a vastly greater thrill, New York, Chicago, Boston, San Francisco, Los Angeles crowded for many months the theatres where it was being simultaneously played.

OLD GLORY FLOATS OVER LONDON HOME

London, Feb. 18.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The Stars and Stripes now float over the home of English aristocracy. They were unfurled there the other day when the American consulate-general took possession of one of the most pretentious homes in Cavendish Square, the most famous of English squares in the heart of London's fashionable West End. In making the move the consulate deserted the city proper, the heart of the financial district, three miles distant, where it has been for more than 100 years.

Robert P. Skinner, the consul-general, decided the change was essential to increase the efficiency of his staff, to keep step with the march of business uptown as in New York, and last but not least in the interest of economy. The old consulate was in a stuffy, ill-ventilated building on New Broad street where it was surrounded by taller structures. It was not easily accessible to most people who had business there and the annual rental was increasing each year. The new home overcomes all these objections. It is well ventilated, is pleasantly situated overlooking a small park, is more central for the thousands who come there weekly and costs less than the old.

Consul Skinner and his staff feel proud of the historic associations of the new home. A week before they moved in it was vacated by Sir Ronald Ross, an eminent physician who discovered the yellow fever germ and whose researches into the origin of tropical diseases won for him the Nobel Prize in 1902. Sir Ronald's predecessor was Sir Francis Laking, who was a noted surgeon and physician to King Edward. Other noted medical men also occupied the home from time to time.

The house which is 140 years old is a four-story brick and stone structure of unpretentious appearance. Its chief feature is the handsome drawing room on the second floor which is now the office of Mr. Skinner. It is a large room about 40x25 feet square with a ceiling 22 feet in height. It is of Chippendale design and the carved white archways and white marble mantlepiece are known as Heppel white decorations. The heavy old mahogany doors form a pleasing contrast to the blue silk panels on the walls. This room has not been changed since Sir Ronald left it; the only addition, except for the plain furniture, being one of Gilbert Stuart's portraits of George Washington which looks down on the consul-general's desk.

"Be careful not to make this place look like a place or you'll cause a congressional investigation," said Mr. Skinner to an Associated Press correspondent.

The other rooms on the four floors are spacious and well adapted for the business of the consulate which has grown so large since the war. Besides having plenty of room for the attaches there are several large store rooms for the hundreds of volumes of claims of American citizens arising out of the war, including the large number of prize court cases. Then there is plenty of shelf room for ready reference purposes.

In fact the new consulate has three times the floor space of the old and neat, commodious reception rooms for the 300 odd visitors who call there every day. Cavendish Square is within a stone's throw of Oxford Circus, the center of London's retail shopping center, and the consulate's new location will be especially advantageous for many American women and children who call daily for advice on the ever-changing regulations governing their stay in war-time England.

There was no ceremony in connection with the moving of the consulate. The nearest approach to anything of the sort was the washing of the American flag in honor of the occasion. "We have just got to have Old Glory looking her best up in this swank (English for swell) neighborhood," said George Washington, the venerable Georgian who greets visitors at the consulate.

he "did not forget to remember" and spoke so highly of Minnesota placing it first in the galaxy of states in so many ways. First in health the death rate being lowest of any state in the union; Minneapolis its leading city, the leading wheat market in the United States, the largest flour mill in the world; but he failed to mention our butter. Minnesota takes first place at all state and national butter exhibitions, so that we are now known as the Bread and Butter State, and then we have not only the world famous Mayos and gave to Chicago Mr. Sears, of Sears-Roebuck Co., but we gave to the world the great railroad and empire builder the late Jas. J. Hill, and his worthy son and successor, Louis J. Hill, is now competing with the Mardi Gras at New Orleans with the St. Paul Winter Carnival.

Minnesota, too, is fast becoming a popular tourist state with our wonderful automobile roads and with more inland lakes and better fishing than any state in the union as inducements.

But we have to confess that some of us like to come to Florida and enjoy life during December, January, February and March. I made my first visit in 1898, when Miami was just a dot on the map; after spending a few winters in California, I came again in 1906 and am again here with my family, so that I am becoming an old resident and booster of Miami.

Like Mr. Clark, I have traveled from Los Angeles to Quebec, from New Orleans to Winnipeg and know something of the advantages and disadvantages, some of the beauties and some of the objections to different towns and cities of this country; and I am free to say, that in my judgment, southern Florida and Miami especially, has every other place in the United States pushed off the map for winter climate and a winter home; provided, however, I said southern Florida and Miami, I said modify this; for unless the authorities of your city get busy and prohibit some of the nuisances now allowed to exist, I shall be obliged to become a knocker instead of a booster.

We of the north, at least some of us, come down here for rest and quiet while we are enjoying your climate. But I am sorry to say that I have not had one full quiet night's sleep in the few weeks I have been in Miami, and in driving around the city looking for a location for a home, I am unable to find a place in the city, unless it be on the island across the bay, where the hair-raising screech and scream of the railroad engines would not be intolerable.

This beautiful Sunday morning, when all nature was hushed and peaceful, at 5 a. m., there came out of the stillness those frightful blasts from engines on the Key West train that would almost raise the dead; and the engineer does not seem to be satisfied with one short whistle, but must run the whole gamut of the Morse telegraphic code, two long, three short, and several shorter shrieks that certainly must be heard in every house in the city of Miami, located as it is up and down the bay on one side and the railroad a short distance back running through the center of the town.

There must be other cities in southern Florida where this particular useless nuisance is prohibited; as it is in all well regulated northern cities, and unless the authorities of Miami give this matter attention and abate or modify this nuisance, they will not be doing their duty and in my judgment Miami will not be able to compete with other places in southern Florida where they give more attention to such matters and strive to make their city attractive to visitors and prospective investors.

This is a matter, it seems to me, in which the real estate men should be deeply interested, for while they may be able to sell lots and homes to innocent and uninformed tourists, they will soon have a host of dissatisfied customers on their hands.

And then the speed limit and cut-out nuisance of motorcycles and automobiles are also intolerable on the main avenues of the city such as the Dixie Highway, Brickell avenue and Miami avenue.

Yours truly,

W. E. ROSS.

Dear Herald:

Thank you for your gracious editorial reference to my remarks in the John Nash affair. Your reporter made an excusable error. I did not say Nash ought to be "shot," but "shut up;" but because of excessive weariness my expression was clumsy and my tongue thick.

What I set out to say, and think I did say, was this: "Probably the man is insane. If so, he ought to be shut up; if not, he ought to be locked up."

I had in mind the alternative of lunatic asylum or penitentiary. Insults to our nation's flag are not to be tolerated.

This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Dandierine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandierine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it. Save your hair! Beautify it! You will say this was the best 25 cents you ever spent.

the chain gang is much too good for them.

No doubt it was an oversight on your part to follow the publication in your paper of this item.

If the proper authorities do not take immediate action in this matter, the good citizens of Miami should take the steps necessary to rid the country of these undesirable.

Very truly,

W. B. BERRYMAN.

Miami Herald Miami, Fla. 2-18-17.

My dear Editor

It certainly laughable to read your editorial on war, you must think the average mind is a piece of cheese. Maybe to your way of thinking, but to mine it is not. You say none of the papers want war, but turn over the pages and you will find such articles as this. Women give her sons to the cause, and all the way through you insist to was with patriotism and handing it to Germany the way she is beating us, you mean us munition mfgs and such bunk, as if she did not have the right to protect her self. If that is not trying to force people to war. I would like you to explain otherwise, just let the American mfg try to send shipment of war or food material to Germany, and let see what England will do to American ship.

If shee not let them pass safely why then I say let go to war against the whole of Europe, and shee them what neutrality means. From what I can see or read about we have been fighting Germany as hard as the Allies in keeping her supply with the material to do it with, and forcing Germany to sink the ships to comply with what the allies are doing to her. I believe in neutrality and if war should come I'll go into the Everglades and stay, rather than to have a hand in butchering my fellow man over American greed for European dollars for the American Munitions mfg. I am an American as far back as any one can but when I read some of the American papers I began to think that I am an English man. And then I am ashamed to think of what Jefferson or Washington would say if they were to arise and see the press today, and their ideas of Patriotism. And I hope if war come all the patriotic editors and their followers will do the fighting, for all the fighting I wish to do is help the masses get what their constitution call for, freedom, press, not prostituted press, not controlled by the mfg. association.

GEO. E. ELLIOTT.

O yes! I am not a Fanatic just an ordinary American.

But I know that the average newspaper man prostitutes his mind for the $81.

UNDER DIFFICULTIES

Hotel Halcyon,

Feb. 19, 1917.

Editor Miami Herald:

I enclose herewith an extract from a letter from Hon. C. R. Breckenridge, who was minister to Russia under President Cleveland.

If you think that it will be of interest to your readers, you are at liberty to publish it.

Yours respectfully,

WM. H. COOMBS.

Breckenridge Letter.

"Our relations with Germany have reached a very unusual condition. An 'overt act' is not to be followed by a declaration of war. The German government is running amuck, for which the German people should not be held strictly responsible. Hence overt acts are to be resisted as they arise and Germany to be left to declare war on us if that way of meeting the situation is not agreeable to her. This is a very narrow and precarious strip of ground to stand on; but I can see it. Nobody but Wilson would ever have thought of it. It would be 'tit for tat,' but no 'war.' If war is never declared, the fighting stops, and the resultant questions would be fit subjects for arbitration. 'Of course Wilson has made some mistakes. Who would not? But take it all in all, I think the man has been guided by a wonderful sagacity. He has stuck to the fundamentals of American ideals and principles, and amid difficulties and embarrassments almost immeasurable."

THE WAR.

February 20, 1915.

British and French warships continue bombardment of Dardanelles, reporting the silencing of several Turkish forts; Constantinople reports the sinking of British ships in the entrance to the straits.

BATTLE OF BUNKER HILL
AS IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN

On a bright, warm day in June, 1775, a number of residents of the section around Charlestown, in the colony of Massachusetts, were gathered at Breed's Hill.

Although they numbered but fifteen hundred, it was their purpose to resist by force of arms the advance of a certain other group of about five thousand gentlemen who had been sent over from England to see to it that the laws adopted by the parliament in that country, were carried out in this.

The gentlemen from abroad were advancing in solid rank, bearing ugly looking arms, when one of the leaders of the Breed's hill party, Dr. Joseph Warren, perhaps, held up his hand and said:

"This is all wrong gentlemen. We ought to give those men down there a year in which we can think over the differences between us before we proceed to extreme measures. We really ought to arbitrate this matter, any way. There are no questions that cannot be put off for decision until after the war, and I move that we quietly retire until a referendum can be taken of the people to ascertain just whether they desire war or not."

The motion being duly seconded, was put to a vote and carried. Whereupon the battle of Bunker Hill was fought according to present day notions.

NO NEED TO FEAR BALDNESS

Here's a Good Way to Stop Loss of Hair and Start New Hair Growth.

If your hair is falling or thinning out, don't wait another day, but go to Elbre's and get a bottle of Parisian Sage, the truly efficient hair grower. Don't say: "It's the same old story; I've heard it before," but try a bottle at the risk. They guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair, to stop falling hair, to cure dandruff and stop scalp itch, or money back.

Parisian Sage contains just the elements needed to properly invigorate and nourish the hair roots. It's a prime favorite with discriminating ladies because it makes the hair shine bright, and appear twice as abundant. Parisian Sage is inexpensive and easily obtainable at all drug stores.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES
A SLUGGISH LIVER

Crashes into sour bile, making you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

Automobiles will leave from 235 Twelfth street about every 5 minutes, the first starting at 8 a. m., the last at 4:30 p. m. Salesmen will show the property. J. A. Gates & Son, 235 Twelfth street. FOR SALE—Desirable lots on Dixie Highway adjoining the Charles Deering estate, overlooking the bay. Cars will take you to the property at any time. J. A. Gates & Son, 235 Twelfth street. Phone 316.

DIXIE HIGHWAY TRACT—To those residing permanently in Miami and to tourists here for the season, J. A. Gates & Son have a message: We have formulated a plan whereby we can greatly reduce the price of real estate to purchasers, cause the business of real estate to be more highly respected, and to be more enjoyable and satisfactory to those engaged in the traffic. We purpose to sell lots in a tract by employing hired salesmen just as an merchant sells goods in his store by clerks in his employ. Parties visiting our Dixie Highway tract, now being offered, will be shown over the tract by our salesmen. A tag bearing the lot and block number and price of lot is attached to a stake placed in front of each lot to be detached by purchaser and presented at office of tract owner, where papers in settlement will be drawn. We can, we believe, by this method, reduce the purchaser 25 per cent or more and complete the transaction most expeditiously and satisfactorily. We especially call attention to location of Dixie Highway tract. It adjoins the Charles Deering place on the north and extends from Dixie Highway to Bay View Ave., overlooking the bay. All inside lots are held at a uniform price of $195 each, corners $300. If in this connection you note the fact that lots in Flanders' tract which adjoins the Charles Deering place on the south, are held at prices ranging from about $3,000 to $5,000, and are on lower land, you will realize that lots in Dixie Highway will certainly appreciate rapidly in value with the growth of Miami, and that you will make no mistake in buying now. It is unreasonable to expect an advance of one hundred per cent in values within one year? May we not urge those of our home people thinking to secure a lot while cheap in price and most attractively located, to select now? May we not urge tourists seeking a place for building a winter home to visit us, many extra beautiful lots, and to select now the selecting in Dixie Highway tract are unbroken. Dixie Highway tract has many advantages, such as electric lights, telephones, jitney buses about half hourly, ice, meat, groceries delivered daily, daily mail delivery, high schools, churches, literary clubs, fraternities, and other advantages of a happy and cultured community. J. A. Gates & Son, 235 Twelfth street. Telephone 316.

GRIDIRON CLUB CLOSING DINNER FOR THE SEASON

President Wilson, Members of the Cabinet and Other Noted Guests There

Washington, Feb. 19. Patriotic fever stirred participants at the closing dinner of the season given by the Gridiron Club of Washington Saturday night with President Wilson, members of the cabinet, and others prominent in government and business life of the nation as guests.

Songs that rang with the spirit of Americanism and demonstrations of loyalty to the president were inter-persed with travesties on the peace note leak investigation, woman suffrage pickets at the White House gates, prohibition for the District of Columbia, California's part in the national election with Senator-elect Hiram Johnson impersonating himself and with other satirical allusions to various phases of national life.

The leak inquiry was caricatured in several sketches, one of them a musical mangle and another a melodramatic effusion entitled "The Waif" in which "Administration Leak" appeared as the heroine and "Barney (T. W.) Lawson" as the irrepressible villain. Introducing the musical sketch, one of the correspondents with a tremulous tenor sang "Down on the Leaky Way" which was followed by another song by a club member in the character of Representative Wood of Indiana, whose resolution led to the congressional investigation into charges of a leak on the peace note message.

The "Leaky Way" chorus ran thus:

Come where the information oozes
Down on the Leaky Way.
Come see the Lams at play,
Bears eager for the fray;
Come hear the tickler gently ticking,
Giving the leaks away.
See the brokers gay,
They are making hay,
Down on the Leaky Way.

The impersonator of Representative
Wood was presented as "William Wood, the Plumber, the Man Who Stops the Leaks," who sang:

I come from Indiana,
A statesman great and true,
And when I smell a scandal
I don't care what I do;
Oh, if I hear a rumor
I follow it for weeks,
For I'm William Wood, the plumber,
I'm the guy who stops the leaks.

"Hazel Jones" as one of the silent suffrage sentinels at the White House was introduced and made the target of several jibes in a minstrel skit.

"Do you know Hazel Jones?" queried one of the wandering minstrel correspondents.

"Why, yes," was the response.
"She is one of the silent sentinels at the White House gates."

"Do you know Hazel had an awful accident?"

"Is that so? What happened to Hazel?"

"Why, one of those big fat squirrels in the White House grounds bit off her ear."

"That's horrible. Did they kill the squirrel?"

"No, indeed. The president said it wasn't the squirrel's fault, and the president was right."

"I must disagree with you. The president was wrong."

"Well, suppose you were a squirrel and you were hungry and you couldn't get any pork-chops, or lamb chops, beef steak, or fried onions, or anything like that, and you were just a plain, old-fashioned squirrel with an appetite for nuts, and for eight hours in the rain and the snow and the sleet somebody stood in front of your house that they called Hazel—I leave it to you. The president was right, he sure was right."

"Camping Tonight" was a song to the suffrage sentinels, running thus:

We're camping tonight on the White House grounds,
Give us a rousing cheer:
Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

Our golden flag we hold aloft,

FINANCIAL NEWS

Furnished The Herald Daily By Clement D.
Cates & Co., Jacksonville and Miami

New York, Feb. 19.—Liverpool due 8 1/2 to 9 1/2 points higher. Opened steady at 8 to 10 points advance. At mid-day the market was quiet but steady at a net advance of 14 to 15 points. Spots in fair demand at 4 points advance. Middling 10.90d. Sales 8,000 bales, including 7,000 American. On this basis New York is due to open as follows: March 16.02; May 16.18; July 16.23; October 15.76. Later cables were 1 point lower than at mid-day on May-June.

There were rains Saturday and Sunday in the South Atlantic and Gulf states. Indications are for general precipitation east of the Mississippi today and tomorrow.

Summary: The net shortage of freight cars on February 1st was 109, 770 compared with 62,247 cars on January 1st. Bethlehem Steel's controversy with the British government over $50,000,000 shell contract for Russia settled and company sales 50,000,000 on its notes to fulfill the great contract. President to go before congress this week and ask for free hand in dealing with situation between United States and Germany. Partial elections in several places in Oriente Province set for February 20 suspended by President Menocal because they are in hands of Cuban rebels. Business demoralized throughout Cuba owing to revolt but sugar industry has not yet been seriously affected. Official circles in Vienna believe that break between Austria-Hungary and United States may yet be avoided. Beginning tonight the port of New York at quarantine will be closed to outward and inward bound vessels. Average price twenty industrials 92.70, up .89; twenty active rails 97.63, up .40.

Car lots: Wheat 14; 2; 14; 230. Corn, 92; 3; 99; 503. Oats 91; 40; 84; 214. Stock Yard report: Hogs 5 to 10c lower; receipts 70,000 vs. 60,000 last year; left over 2,200; top price 12.40. Cattle 10 to 15c lower; receipts 25,000; sheep 10c lower; receipts 22,000.

Stock Letter: The recent selling of Bethlehem Steel is explained by their issue of fifty million notes. Apparently the companies doing a war business have had difficulties to meet. Railroad congestion becomes worse and will seriously affect earnings, especially in the west, where the roads are tied up worse than here. The recovery in investment securities the end of week was in sympathy with short covering in balance of the list. You must expect a waiting market until we hear from Washington. Hutton.

Cotton Letter: Shipping situation becoming more settled. We look for gradual advance in prices and would buy cotton on any fair sized recession. Hutton.

Grain Letter: Wheat—While nothing radical in the political news, its general color is not reassuring. Offsetting the uneasiness likely to be created by this is the reported sailing of 12 vessels from New York harbor yesterday and probability of several more today, also an absence of precipitation over the winter wheat belt. Traffic conditions are the immediate factor but the new crop will soon be of special importance in view of probable depletion of northwest car service.

Provisions and Grain
New York, Feb. 19.—Liverpool is about 5 points better than due. The textile papers show a very decided tendency to look on the optimistic side.
The embargo on shipments to eastern points is exercising a sustaining influence on the near months. Speculation is very slack and the strength of the market is due almost entirely to trade conditions. Ferrall.

Bache says: We look for further improvement in the market today, but cannot expect any sustained advance until possibility of an extensive export tie-up has been removed and the foreign political situation takes more definite shape.

Liverpool closed 26 to 29 up on old and 20 up on new. Firm.
Six cents for 1/4 of one potato at the lunch counter certainly will not lessen the demand for other starches. It is a distinct item in making wheat prices. Babcock 10:40 a. m.

Steamer Iolo has been sunk. It is British.

Wheat still firm, no important selling. General trade remains small.
Visible prospects with 4 points to come wheat decrease 759,000; corn increase 434,000; oats decrease 387,000.

Of cops we have no fear.

Wishing for the war to cease
Many are the chilblains and frost

It is no life of ease.

"Tom Lawson, Barney Baruch, Charley Sabin and Otto Kahn" appeared as a quartet, singing:

"They met Tom Lawson in the street,
Barney and Charles and Ot.
He said: 'You boys appear to know
More than the public ought;
Now won't you come to Washington
And tell about the leak?'"

They whispered: 'No, no, thank you,
Tom.'
And didn't give a squeak.

"But Tom came, willing, eager, too,
And said they should be brought So Henry sent a Sergeant-at-arms for Barney and Charles and Ot.
'Now boys,' said Bob, 'come tell us all About this inside ring.'
They whispered: 'No, thank you, Bob.'
And didn't tell a thing."

Dr. Grayson, whose nomination as medical director of the navy with rank of rear admiral, was another target for musical shafts to the tune of "Captain Jinks."

"He's an admiral great, in the new navy,
His name is Dr. Cary G.
And though he'll seldom go to sea,
He's an admiral in the navy;
And if the navy has a chill
Take a pill, take a pill,
No battleship will have the grip
While he's admiral in the navy."

"Who is the vice-president?"

"Never mind, neither do we."
"Who makes the laws?"

"Woodrow Wilson."
"If Wilson makes the laws, what does congress do?"

"Squanders money on creeks, rivu-

"What is the building called in

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Don't look old! Try Grandmother's recipe to darken and beautify faded, streaked hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound.
This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied.
You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delicious toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

QUENCH THIRST IN GUTTERS

However, the Ladies of the Andean Capital Also Bathe in It

Ibagu, capital of the Colombian province of Tolima, claims 2,300 "souls," but the count takes much for granted. It is a square-cornered town of almost wholly thatched one-story buildings, its wide streets atrociously cobble and its few sidewalks worn perilously slippery and barely wide enough for two feet at once.

A stream of crystal clear water gurgles down every street through cobble gutters, lulling the travel weary to sleep and furnishing a convenient means of washing photographic films. We drank less often, however, after we had strolled up to the end of the mountain and found there none too handsome ladies bathing in the reservoir.

It is a peaceful, roomy place, where everyone has unlimited space on the grassy, gentle slope to put up his little chalky, straw roofed cottage, yet all too the street line as if fearful of missing anything that might unexpectedly pass. Foreigners seem to be a great novelty, and I could find no satisfactory reason why so many Ibaguenos were blind, unless they had overindulged themselves in the national game of staring—Harry A.
Frank in the Century Magazine.

PLAN UPLIFT OF THE SHOW BUSINESS

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Chicago today became the mecca for owners and managers of traveling circuses and outdoor carnival and fair exhibitions from all parts of the country. The occasion of the gathering is the first annual convention of the Association of Outdoor Showmen of the World, which was organized in New York last December. The announced purpose of the association is to weed out unscrupulous showmen, create and correct legislation in their behalf and uplift conditions generally in the show

"I'm Happy to Own a Plant That Need Never Close Down"

This was the comment of a multimillionaire from the North regarding his Florida farm, when a financial stringency rendered it necessary for manufacturing enterprises in which he was interested to suspend operations.

The fact that in Florida agriculture and live stock raising go right along, all the year round and year after year, adds greatly to the profit-earning capacity of the money invested in them.

A longer growing season, with two or more feed and forage crops each year; grazing almost every month and absence of bitter cold, are factors which make stock raising in Florida exceedingly profitable when managed by experts.

Florida farmers sell their live stock at prices fixed by producing costs in other less favored sections. Their profits accordingly are greater than can be made elsewhere. The nation's need of more meat can be met only by an increased production in this section.

Money invested now in live stock raising here, under proper safeguards, will earn big dividends. The securities we handle provide a stipulated fixed income and allow participation in earnings beyond the amount required to pay the guaranteed dividend. All are based on agricultural development now under way.

While you are in Florida this winter,
why not look into her greatest money-making opportunity—the live stock business? Our booklet will give you a lot of valuable information, free upon request. We will be glad to send you copy and to show you the properties on which are based the securities we sell. Let us hear from you NOW.

One Of The Best Investments In Florida Today IS AN ORANGE OR GRAPEFRUIT GROVE

Since the recent cold snap, some of our growers have foolishly become discouraged and are offering their groves at decided bargains.

Other parts of the state have suffered much worse than we. Dade County is undoubtedly the safest part of the state in which to grow citrus fruits and the avocado.

The damage to citrus fruits in this county, has been very slight and with proper fertilization and care, we are going to have a bumper crop, with record prices this year.

We believe we are well fitted to advise on the selection and care of groves, in that we are and have been growers for the past twelve years. Besides we have for a number of years represented the Buckeye Nurseries, the largest citrus nurseries in the world, and have furnished and planted the trees for many satisfied customers all along the East Coast and in the drained portion of the Everglades.
